Denny Denies Report.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 14.—Col. Frank Denny, U. S. Marine Corps, who arrived in the city Friday evening to assume charge of the quartermaster's depots and construction work of the Marine Corps on the Pacific Coast, expressed great delight at once more being among his many friends on this Coast. When asked by a representative of the Chronicle whether he had resumed the idea of coming to this city, as intimated in certain dispatches purporting to come from Washington, he said:

"That is ridiculous. In the first place it would be insubordinate for an officer to resent any order from the secretary of the navy. Secondly, the secretary has honored me by asking my preference, and I requested this assignment because of my many friends here."

New Sherman Q. M.

Capt. James D. Tifford, quartermaster, has been relieved from duty at Newport News and is ordered to duty in this city as quartermaster of the transport Sherman.

Defense in Cooke Trial.

SEATTLE, Washington, August 15.—Capt. Leroy S. Upton began the arguments for the defense today in the trial by court-martial of Col. George F. Cooke, U. S. A., retired, on charges of neglect of duty and misconduct in connection with the disappearance of $15,000 from the paymaster's safe at Fort Gibbon, Alaska, while Colonel Cooke was commandant there. Captain Upton urged that even if Colonel Cooke had committed the acts of which he was charged, he could not be held accountable as he was mentally and physically unfitted for the post assigned to him by the government.

The veracity of Lieut. Jacob Schick, one of the principal witnesses against the accused officer, was questioned by the counsel for the defense. It was claimed by the defense that Lieutenant Schick had a personal axe to grind. Much weight was attached by the defense to a conversation held in the mess room at Fort Gibbons, in which the junior officers discussed the advisability of placing the commandant under observation and treatment for mental and physical weakness.

Gibson Pau in Pacific.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 15.—The well-known ship Alex Gibson has bidden farewell to Pacific waters, having left the Coast on what is to be the last voyage she will make under her own canvas. The old windjammer sailed from the Sound last week laden with huge timbers, some of them the largest ever shipped from this Coast. The Gibson will be sold on her arrival at New York, and will join the large fleet of the Atlantic, which is composed of many a once-famous clipper ship. Capt. F. E. Southard, who will command the Gibson on her last voyage, has long been identified with the sailing fleet of the American merchant marine and has a wide acquaintance at Pacific Coast ports.

For the past thirty-three years the Alex Gibson has been a familiar figure in the American merchant marine and the old vessel has seen many years of service on the Pacific. Her departure adds another chapter to the gradual disappearance of the once large fleet of American sailing vessels. The Gibson was built at Thomaston, Me., in 1877. She is a stanch wooden ship of 2943 tons net, and is 247 feet in length, 42 feet beam and 21 feet deep. She has no remarkable sailing feats to her credit, but has always been regarded as steady and dependable.

An interesting feature of the Gibson's cargo is a big flagpole in two sections, which she is taking for the Woodbridge, N. J., high school. The pole will be 215 feet in height when erected on the school campus.

Army Canteen Again.

BOSTON, August 12.—Although he did not directly advocate the reestablishment of the army canteen, Rev. Father George J. Waring, chaplain of the Eleventh Cavalry, U. S. A., in an address before the national convention of the Catholic Total Abstinence Union today, implied that its abolition was a mistake. Father Waring declared that the soldier was driven to drink largely by the fact that he was practically barred from high-class amusements and refreshments.

Off to South America.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 14.—At two o'clock yesterday afternoon the United States cruiser California, Colorado, Pennsylvania and Washington weighed anchor in man-o'-war row and steamed quietly out of the harbor, being destined for Valparaiso, Chile. The division is in command of Rear-Admiral Giles B. Harber, whose flagship is the California.

The first stop to be made by the cruisers will be at Chimbote, Peru, 2600 miles to the southward, where they will coal and then proceed to Valparaiso, a distance of 1515 miles further. At the conclusion of the Chilean Centennial, the California, Pennsylvania and Colorado will return here, while the Washington will proceed to Hampton Roads, where she will become a member of the Atlantic fleet. The Washington is scheduled to reach Hampton Roads on November 15th.
